Time to serve

These are tough times for many of our friends, neighbors and community. At the same time, resources are limited.

Now, more than ever, we can help our community by pitching in and helping out. Citizens from across the city continue to bring cans, boxes and jars of food to our annual district picnic and food drive. And, many others contribute financially at the event to Second Harvest Food Bank.

Many others from the Wadeview Park Neighborhood Association and Christ Church of Orlando came out to Wadeview Park the week before the picnic to help clean up the park. We picked up litter and cleaned the park.

Several people have asked me about forming a group to take on service projects to benefit our community. That might be cleaning up a city park or lake. It might be planting trees or, serving those in need.

How about it? Are you a member of a group that is looking for interesting projects from time to time? A high school or college student that needs community service hours? Or, just an interested citizen who would like to help the community from time to time?

If so, let me know. We'll put you to work. And build a better community.
